DRAGNET FOR PLOTTERS

Sixty Alleged Ringleaders in German Plots Ordered—Bail to be Refused—Other Arrests to Follow

Washington, April 7.—The arrest of 60 alleged ringleaders in German plots, conspiracies and machinations in the United States was ordered yesterday by Attorney-General Gregory immediately after President Wilson had signed the war resolution.

Every man whose arrest was ordered is a German citizen, is known by the Department of Justice, it was authoritatively said, to have participated actively in German intrigues in this country, and is regarded as a dangerous person to be at large.

Bail to be Refused

Bail will be refused in each case, it was said, and the entire group will be locked up, unless there is a change in present plans, for the duration of the war.

Indications are that a number of other arrests will be ordered within the next few days.

The men are placed in three groups. Those who have been convicted of violation of American neutrality in furthering German plots of various sorts, and are at liberty under bond awaiting the action of higher courts; those who have been indicted for Federal grand juries for similar offenses, and are at liberty under bond waiting trial, and persons neither indicted nor convicted, but whose activities have been under long surveilance by the Secret Service or the departments Bureau of Investigation.

No Warrant Needed

For the first time in more than a century arrests of alien enemies under the Attorney-General's orders will be made without reference to the courts or obtaining warrants. The President is empowered to adopt this course in time of war under an act of Congress passed in 1798 and not invoked since the war with Great Britain in 1812.

The department has under strict surveillance thousands of German reservists resident in the United States who are suspected of having been connected with plots already brought to light, with plots abandoned before perfection, or who have been active in German propaganda or because of their accentuated leanings toward the German Government are regarded as likely to work against the interests of the United States during the war.

How many German reservists are residents of the United States, a high official said, has never been accurately determined and is largely a matter of conjecture. This official's belief was that the number ranged between 150,000 and 200,000. The great majority, it was said, are men in middle life or beyond, or men who have been in this country for so many years that their sympathies in the present struggle are considered virtually as having been transplanted to the United States.

Former Alexandrian Dead.

George Washington Macrae, 84 years old, was found dead Friday morning on the edge of the woods on the Portner estate, Prince William County, this side of the farm of Mr. and Mrs. M. R. Taylor, with whom he had made his home. Mr. Macrae left the Taylor home last Friday and, thinking he had gone to visit a neighbor, the family made no effort to find him.

Mr. Macrae was a Confederate veteran. He leaves his wife, who lives in Portsmouth; two daughters, Mrs. Sanford, of Hamilton, N. C., and Mrs. Roberts, of Portsmouth, and three sons, William, of Chicago, and Westwood and Allen, both of Washington. Mrs. Macrae was Miss Margaret Jameson, of Centerville, a sister of Mrs. Richard B. Dear, of Washington and Minnesota also of the late Mrs. Hesselius Smith and Miss Penelope Jamesson and a niece of the late Commodore William Jamesson, U. S. N., of this city.

GOOD FISHING IN POTOMAC.

Fishermen Meeting With Greater Success Than Last Year.

Fredericksburg, Va., April 7.—Fishermen in this section are having better success this year than for a number of years past. Many fish are being brought here and supplied to this market and the surplus is shipped to Washington, Baltimore, Philadelphia and New York by express. One load of fish brought here yesterday from the Potomac contained 1,000 pounds of fine rock and shad. Another load had 3,500 herring and a number of strings of perch. Still another load had 3,000 herring and many shad and perch, and one load had 125 fine shad and 800 herring. Herring here are selling from $2.50 to 3 per 100 retailing at 40 cents per dozen for run of the seine, and 50 cent sper dozen for roe herring. Fishermen look for bigger runs of fish as the weather turns warmer and then lower prices will prevail.

"Broadway Jones" on Monday.

George M. Cohan's love for the American flag, as set forth in numerous songs and plays, is not professional. Even today he possesses all the patriotism of a small boy and is intensely American in his sentiments. In addition to his many other achievements, GeorgeM. is often referred to as "the best press agent for the Aemrican flag" the country has ever known. Not satisfied with being the most popular actor-author producer connected with the stage, he has invaded the field of motion pictures with the great success evidenced at the Columbia Theatre, in Washington this week.

He will be seen Monday matinee and night at the Richmond in "Broadway Jones."

DEMONSTRATE THRIFT IN YOUR HOME.

Make Saving, Rather Than Spending, Your Social Standard.

"For partial immediate relief, every individual and community should consider earnestly the matter of food conservation and the limitation of waste. As a nation we seem to have a disdain of economizing. In many homes there is a strong feeling that it is 'only decent' to provide more food than will be eaten and that it is demeaning to reckon closely. The experts of the Department of Agriculture report to me that the dietary studies made by them point to an annual food waste of about $700,000,000. Of course, the waste in families of very limited means is slight, but in the families of moderate and ample means the waste is considerable. Even if the estimate were reduced by half, the waste would still be enormous.

"The food waste in the household, the experts assert, results in large measure from bad preparation and bad cooking, from improper care and handling, and, in well-to-do families, from serving an undue number of courses and an over-abundant supply and failing to save and utilize the food not consumed. As an instance of improper handling, it is discovered that in the preparation of potatoes 20 per cent of the edible portion in may cases is discarded." Secretary of Agriculture, March 3, 1917.

Food is wasted when we eat more food than our bodies need for growth and repair and to supply energy for our work. Overeating tends to poor health and fat instead of brawn, makes us sluggish and indolent instead of energetic and resourceful. Eat enough and no more. Eat for physical and mental efficiency.

DEATH NOTICE.

On Friday, April 6, 1917, at 8:15 o'clock a. m., at his residence, 220 North Royal Street, JOHN L. SMITH, in the 83rd year of his age. Funeral from his late residence at 3 p. m., Sunday, 8th instant. Interment at Bethel Cemetery.

DESPERATE GERMAN BAKER.

Says His Business is Being Ruined by False Reports.

Danville Va., April 7.—A native German, who became naturalized fifteen years ago in Baltimore has appealed to the police in desperation. His name is Josef Noderer and he came here four years ago and built up a large patronange in a bakery which he operates in North Danville. A circulated report that he had threatened to put poison in his bread led to a curtailment of his business which may spell ruin if it is continued. The chief of police has given him a letter recommending him as a good and industrious citizen. Noderer anxious to save his tared, wants to be given the opportunity of denouncing the Hohenzollerns in public, hoping that such a stand will remove the German stigma.

American Flag Raised Over Confederate Home.

Raleigh, N. C., April 7.—For the first time in the history of the North Carolina Home for Confederate Veterans here, the Stars and Stripes was raised yesterday, replacing the State flag. The veterans saluted the national emblem with the same enthusiasm they formerly showed to the Stars and Bars. Heretofore, the institution being under State control, only the North Carolina banner has appeared on the flag pole of the home.

CREDIT OF BILLIONS.

President Will Recommend Proffer of Billion to Allies.

It was learned in Washington today that an extension of a credit to the allies of over $1,000,000,000, and probably as much as $5,000,000,000, will be the first step of actual participation in the war under the plan to be suggested to Congress by the President.

CALL TO VIRGINIANS

Mayor Fisher Receives Notification From Governor Stuart Asking for Recruits for Navy.

Mayor Fisher received the following communications asking for recruits for service in the navy from Governor Henry C. Stuart this morning.

Richmond, April 3, 1917.

Dear Sir:—

President Wilson, through the Navy Department, has issued a call for 38,500 recruits to make up the complement of men immediately needed for the Navy.

To obtain this number of recruits Virginia has been called on to furnish at the lowest 800 men by April 20. There are 100 counties in the State and if each county furnishes eight men Virginia's qpota will thus be supplied.

It is not sufficient, however, that merely 800 men apply; the physical examination for enlistment is somewhat strict and many applicants for the Navy are rejected on account of one defest or another. It is therefore, essential that considerably more than 800 applicants be obtained in Virginia.

Accordingly, at this time of the Nation's emergency I appeal to you as a man of standing and influence in your community to use your best efforts in securing from your county as many applicants for the Navy between the ages of 17 and 30 years as possible.

I am addressing this communication to you as well as to the other members of the Board of Supervisors and the Clerk of your County.

The necessity for immediate and energetic action is so urgent that exceptional steps (such as county and district mass-meetings in addition to the solicitation of individuals, should be taken in order to furnish Virginia's quota by April 20.

In complying with this request you render a double service; for, in addition to the patriotic purpose shown by young men in enlisting at this time, you can see from the information sent under another cover that the Navy offers a useful and educational career to any young man, as well as opportunities for fine training and extensive travel.

You will find enclosed herewith a letter signed by Lieutenant (J. G.) L. S. Stewart, naval recruiting officer, Richmond, Virginia, which affords valuable information.

Please advise me of the result of your activities at the earliest possible date.

H. C. STUART,
Governor of Virginia.

United States Navy Recruiting Station,
Allison Building, Richmond, Va,

Sir:—

His Excellency, the Honorable Henry Carter Stuart, Governor of the State of Virginia, having enlisted your aid in securing the recruits so urgently needed for the Navy, the following instructions are forwarded for your information.

When a number of recruits are ready to enlist you will notify this office by telegram if possible, or if not, by letter. The telegram should be sent collect, Government rate, and should state at what one place the recruits will meet the Recruiting Officer. The address is "Navy Recruiting Station, Richmond, Va."

This office will then notify you by telegram what day and hour a recruiting officer will come to examine the men. You are requested to have all recruits ready for examination at the time and place decided upon.

In addition to the patriotic motives which prompt enlistments at this time I wish to call your attention to the exceptional advantages of travel, education, and vocational training offered by the Navy. I am sending you under separate cover a descriptive booklet telling of the various lines of work and opportunities for advancement.

In rendering this service you are doing a patriotic duty and also affording many ambitious young men a chance to benefit themselves.

Recruits must be of good moral character, sound physically and between the ages of 17 and 30.

Respectfully,
Lieutenant Stewart, U. S. Navy,
Recruiting Officer.

BREAK WITH AUSTRIA?

London Has Such a Report But No Word has been Received at Washington

A cable dispatch dated at London, at 6:45 this morning says:

Passports have been placed at the disposal of the American embassy in Vienna, according to a dispatch to the Exchange Telegraph Company from The Hague, quoting telegrams received there from the Austrian capital.

The dispatch says that Bulgaria and Turkey have also decided to break off relations with the United States and that Holland will probably look after Austrian interests in Washington and American interests in Vienna.

No Word Received in Washington.

Word that the Austro-Hungarian foreign office had placed passports at the disposal of the American embassy at Vienna had not reached the Austrian embassy here early today according to Prince Hohenlohe-Schillingshorst, one of the embassy attaches.

EDITORIAL PARAGRAPHS

"Whom the Gods would destroy, they first make mad," is an old adage that would seem to fit the case of the Kaiser and his military advisers very well just at this time.

"Obey the laws and keep your mouth shut," will be an excellet motto for those to follow who sympathize with the German emperor and his armies from this time on. This country is going to be too crowded with real American patriots to allow even standing room for those who are getting their living here and talking against the flag, on the quiet.

Some of those defiant editors of German newspapers who are telling their readers that the Americans are a lot of bluffers may have occasion to change their minds. They may find that Uncle Sam "has got the men and got the ships and got the money, too." And, furthermore, that the American people will make use of them all in defense of the right.

Seventeen hundred and fifty-eight men have applied for enlistment in the "Soldiers of the Sea," during the past week at their various recruiting stations from coast to coast, according to recruiting officials in Washington. The Marine Corps is still short about 4,000 men for war strength and is making a strong appeal to youths of spirit to "do their bit" in "The First Line of Defense."

The news that Austria has broken off diplomatic relations with the United States would not be at all surprising and the announcement that such is the fact is said to be looked for among the Washington officials at any time. Rumors to that effect were heard about the capitol last night. It will only add expected fuel to the flames when it does come.

Over in Baltimore the idea of turning vacant lots into gardens for the raising of vegetables of all kinds is making rapid progress. The latest word from there is to the effect that over one thousand acres of unused land within the city limits will given over for that purpose. Alexandria should not be behind in the matter. Every available foot of ground that can be used for the purpose should be utilized. It will all help to reduce the high cost of living.

Five trunks, containing fifty-three gallons of liquor, were found in Richmond yesterday by the police of that city. The man who is said to have been responsible for bringing it into the state succeeded in making his escape. Those who defy the laws in that manner merit the severest penalties that it is possible to administer. Those who refuse to abide by laws demanded and adopted by the majority of the people of a state should be compelled to respect them or be placed where they cannot break them. That the open sale of liquor in this country is doomed, is evidenced by public sentiment which is constantly growing on all sides, and it might be just as well for the minority to make up their minds to comply with the will of the majority that is fast being recorded upon the statute books of the different states.

OUR WAR PRESIDENT

In a lengthy editorial concerning President Wilson the Philadelphia Record of today very truthfully says:

It is fortunate for the United States that, at this very critical juncture of its affairs, it has in the White House a President who comes of that stock, the so-called Scotch-Irish, that has given to the United States many of its most distinguished fighters. In every war, from the Revolution down, they have been leaders of armies, and soldiers in the ranks, and many of the most distinguished Presidents were of that lineage. Individually, Mr. Wilson is distinctly a man of peace, but in all those positions in which he has been brought before the public, as president of Princeton University, as Governor of New Jersey and as Chief Executive of the nation, he has shown, in upholding what he believes to be the right, combative qualities of no mean order. He has not hesitated to antagonize Congress when his principles called for such a course, as in his successful fight to secure the repeal of the Panama Canal tolls act, and he will certainly show no shrinking in his attitude toward Germany.

Hitherto Mr. Wilson's pugnacious qualities have been principally shown in his demands for great reforms in domestic matters, Now he enters upon a broader field, in which ne will be put to a much severer test. That he will meet it successfully his friends have little doubt. Certainly he has already shown a remarkable grasp of the issues involved and great vigor in making the necessary preparations. His past record makes it clear that politics will play little part in his conduct of the war. The technical questions will be left to the experts of the General Staff of the Army and the Naval Board, and the President will look to them for results. His role will be that of leader of his people in a great crisis and as a participant in the settlement of the international questions involved. In discussing this interesting point of the President's ability to carry the tremendous responsibilities now thrust upon him.

PRESIDENT WILSON AND THE WAR.

Lincoln's idea, that if he saved the Union, people would forget his mistakes, but that, if he failed to save the Union 10,000 angels could not turn aside the penalty that would descend upon him, was a true estimate of a war President's position. A sound judgment as of the real objects of the war is primarily essential to ultimate success. Lincoln's judgment was so clearly and definitely formulated that his mind easily grasped the fundamental strategy of military conquest. An English military critic has written within the past few months that the British Government in the summer of 1914 knew as little about war as Lincoln did in the spring of 1861, but that, after two years of the present European conflict, he only wished that the British Government had learned as much about war as Lincoln had learned by the summer of 1863.

A sccessful war President does not need to be a trained soldier; he does not even need to have studied professionally the principles of military science. A statesman from civil life like the older Pitt, or Cavour or Lincoln—and one might include Bismarck in the list—may so accurately envisage the objects of a war that no soldier may surpass him in his grasp of the war problem. What the nation may expect from President Wilson, is a matured judgment, first of all, on the objects of the American participation in the world war, and, second, a fixed and unbending determination to see those objects secured. That he already has formulated a judgment appears in his address to Congress. Above and beyond defending the nation's specific rights, "the world must be made safe for democracy." To inspire a whole people and to labor himself toward that end, without wavering, is the mission of our war President—Springfield Republican.

Editor Gazette:

It gives pleasure to all who have lived in Alexandria many many years and learned to love the city and its people to read the recent publications in the Gazette suggesting that a concerted movement be inaugurated looking to a cleaning up and improvement of general conditions in Alexandria.

Our city has not always been justly subject to criticism for its lack of neatness, but it must be granted that the points mentioned have been well taken and there is certainly good reasons that some definite steps should now be taken in the matter. There is no question but that Alexandria has many advantages that a large number of our citizens do not realize or appreciate. Its railroad facilities are second to no city of its size in the country and passengers and freight from all sections can be handled with wonderful despatch. The river that flows past our doors to the sea gives transportation by boat and steamer to all the cities of the Atlantic coast and foreign countries with the least inconvenience, the depth of the river at Alexandria being sufficient for the largest vessels used in such traffic. There is at present an awakening of our own people, and men of keen minds outside of Alexandria, to the advantages of our city and our people should not miss the opportunity to put their best foot forward in hearty co-operation in the cleaning-up proposition the Gazette has suggested. At no time will there be a more valuable chance to take advantage of such a movement than now when business men, quick to weigh the value of all sorts of conditions are visiting Alexandria having been interested in seeing just what sort of a city it is that aspires to have the Government armor plant located within its borders. With the natural advantages enhanced by clean streets, the absence of the junk and old iron, decaying lumber and all the with the rest, that is fine and you are a truly good citizen, but if you are not a member of any of them or doing anything in any public way, (that is, outside of attending strictly to your own private business), just ask yourself where you stand in the game. The success of a city in every way, commercial, social and in all the lines that go to make up what is known as prosperity, and high municipal standing, is always due to organization or team work in the end. Men can in a individual way do much for cities in the beginning of many great works but when it gets around to real effectiveness in a large way, it is necessary to have the co-operation of others to assure success. A successful war depends on organization in just the same way, so if you have not contributed to the advancement of Alexandria in the past, now is a splendid time to begin. Start off with being a "jiner" and get into some organization that is really doing something for Alexandria, and, that will be your "preparedness" state, then enlist for the "war," that is mentioned in the Gazette, on all the things that are of a disadvantage to Alexandria and see what a wonderful work you and your friends and neighbors can do in the improvement of your own home city.

This is written by one who loves other unsightly things that have been mentioned, and with our buildings in orderly condition, instead of looking like old castles in Europe after the war, we are bound to have favorable opinions formed of our city and decisions made to locate here because it looks like a real live city.

The news in regard to the placing of the contract with the Dean Ship Yard for the construction of twenty submarine chasers, undoubtedly gave pleasure to many citizens when the Gazette printed the information last evening and this recognition of Alexandria by those in charge of the placing of contracts for the Government is sure to be only a small beginning of a great increase of manufacturing in all lines in our city. There is no reason, but that, located as it is, the very next city of considerable size near the great Capital of the country, the industries of Alexandria could be developed to a wonderful extent. It has already shown its advantages as a city of residence as there are hundreds of persons residing in Alexandria that are engaged in business in Washington and while we are cleaning up let us not forget that while "cleanliness" is a most commendable virtue and should unquestionably be encouraged we should by all means not forget that "diligence in business" is also mentioned and we must get not only, "together ourselves"—but get—some other outside people to get together with us! Talk up your town, is what is meant! Tell the people you meet in Washington if you work over there, what a good town you live in, compare notes on the high cost of living and see if you are not very much ahead of them. If you are not satisfied with the way some things are at present conducted in the town get busy and see what you can do as a good citizen to make things "go right'.' Some one has been trying to do that for you without charge ever since you have been living in Alexandria and perhaps you could give some advice from your experience that would be very helpful. Everybody can help some. If you have not been doing anything in public affairs it is time for you to begin to get busy. You would not like to have any one say that you have been loafing on the other fellows, but it, when you come to analyze it, looks very much like you have been. No citizen of Alexandria can escape from the responsibility of their duties as citizens, although they may shirk the performance of them. The responsibility is there forever and the only way to square the account is to get out and do what your duty calls for. If the Chamber of Commerce, Retail Merchants' Association and all the other organizations engaged in active work for the good of Alexandria are effective, as every one knows they are, in their respective lines, then, if you are a citizen of Alexandria, you are receiving the benefit of their activities whether you are a member of these organizations or not. If you are a member and have realized your responsibilities and doing good work Alexandria, and who earnestly desires to see it built up along all lines.

TALK WITH AN ALEXANDRIAN

Walter C. Dameron of N. Columbus Street, Tells of an Interesting Experience

There is nothing like a talk with one of our own citizens for giving hope and encouragement to the anxious sufferer from the dread kidney disease. We therefore, give here an interview with an Alexandria man:

Mr. Dameron, says: "My back hurt so badly that often I had to lay off from work. After I got down, I couldn't straighten up again without sharp pains catching me across my kidneys. There was hardly a night passed that my back didn't ache. My kidneys acted too frequently and during the night I had to get up every little while. When morning came, I felt so tired and weak that I could hardly drag myself out of bed. I doctored and tried different medicine but felt no better until I procured Doan's Kidney Pills at Henry Callan's Drug Store. I took about six boxes in all and since then I have had but little trouble from my kidneys and have felt like a different person."

Price 50c., at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Dameron has recommended. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

BOAT CLUB BURLESQUE.

Program of the Fun-Making Comedy to be Given in this City.

Except for the final dress rehearsals at the Opera House, on Tuesday and Wednesday evenings, next, everything is in readiness for the big Boat Club—Red Cross burlesque benefit to be staged this coming Thursday evening. A glance at the program below assures the public of a good laugh. The whole idea of the show is essentially new—an uproarious, make-believe of our Police court, judge, police, lawyers, citizens, and firemen in two acts. Every situation in both parts is based upon local ideas and to those familiar with the present players' burlesque on the city council some years ago, nothing more need be said.

It is not a minstrel but a black-faced comedy throughout. As stated before in these columns, a certain percentage of the receipts is to be donated to the Red Cross fund so the entertainment will have a patriotic incentive for the audience and players alike.

Young ladies composing an auxiliary to the club, will usher and both their presence and uniforms will be a distinct feature of the evening. And there are still two other features which will be sprung as a great surprise.

Owners of small fruits now in early bloom near Lynchburg, were given something of a fright yesterday morning when it was found that a heavy frost had prevailed during early morning hours. The official temperature for the night was 32.8 degrees but, on account of the dry condition of the earth and the apparently hearty condition of the fruit bloom, it is generally thought that no harm has come even to the early varieties of peaches and plums.

Mrs. J. P. Furr, sixty-seven years old, died Tuesday at her home in Clarendon. Funeral services were held on Friday at 8 o'clock at her home. Interment at Leesburg Saturday morning at 11 o'clock. She is survived by her husband, J. P. Furr, three sons, W. E., P. G. and H. H. Furr, and one daughter, Mrs. R. P. Shepherd.

Mr. Thomas N. Brent, one of Fredericksburg's most prominent, successful and popular business men, passed away at his home on Princess Anne street, at an early hour Friday morning aged 67 years. Besides his wife, he is survived by three children, Dr. W. L. Brent, of Colonial Beach; Lieut. Thos. N. Brent Jr., of Co., K. Second Va. Regiment; Mrs. R. E. Slaven, all of whom have been at the home here for the past several weeks and were at the bedside when the end came.

Mrs. N. B. Kinsey has bought of H. T. Brown, his farm, known as Finders Forest, in Spotsylvania County, containing 127 acres of land and large brick house. Mrs. Kinsey will immediately have the house thoroughly repaired and make this place her future home. In this house many years ago Mrs. Kinsey's father first met her mother, now Mrs. Annie Blackley.

Several dogs attacked and killed last week two eight-months-old steers on the farm of Mr. D. G. Richards, near Culpeper. Mr. Richards saw the animals and shot at them, but without effect.

GLAD TO TESTIFY

Says Watoga Lady, "As To What Cardui Has Done For Me, So As To Help Others."

Watoga, W. Va.—Mrs. S. W. Gladwell, of this town, says: "When about 15 years of age, I suffered greatly . . . Sometimes would go a month or two, and I had terrible headache, backache, and bearing-down pains, and would just drag and had no appetite. Then . . . it would last . . . two weeks, and was so weakening, and my health was awful.

My mother bought me a bottle of Cardui, and I began to improve after taking the first bottle, so kept it up till I took three . . . I gained, and was well and strong, and I owe it all to Cardui.

I am married now and have 3 children . . . Have never had to have a doctor for female trouble, and just resort to Cardui if I need a tonic. I am glad to testify to what it has done for me, so as to help others."

If you are nervous or weak, have headaches, backaches, or any of the other ailments so common to women, why not give Cardui a trial? Recommended by many physicians. In use over 40 years. Begin taking Cardui today. It may be the very medicine you need.

OFFER VIRGINIA ESTATE.

For Establishment of Cavalry Concentration Point for the Army.

The government has received an offer of a large stock and horse-breeding estate on the James River below Richmond for the establishment of a mid-Atlantic cavalry concentration point. The property, it is said, has ample stable facilities, tracks and maneuver fields, and has the necessary railroad facilities. Captain Hines will, on advices from the Department of the East, look into the offer. The exact location of the property has not been made known to the military authorities, the offer being a tentative one. The Curle's Neck Farm, owned by C. K. G. Billings, New York capitalist, is about the only property that seems to fit the description of the property offered.

The Department of the East has ordered the superintendent of the New York arsenal, or his commissioned assistant, to visit Richmond, Norfolk, Portsmouth and Hampton for the purpose of inspecting the property of the four batteries of Virginia field artillery. It is the purpose of the government to see that the equipment is ready for heavy field service at once. The artillery arm of the service would be the hardest to supply in an emergency, consequently, it is necessary to see that everything is strictly serviceable. Just when the officer will arrive has not been learned.

BRYAN OFFERS TO SERVE.

Sends Wilson Message Asking to be Enrolled as Private—Ready for Any Duty.

Tallahassee, Fla., April 7.—Former Secretary Bryan yesterday sent this message to President Wilson:

"Believing it to be the duty of each citizen to bear his part of the burden of war and his shares of its perils I hereby tender my services to the Government. Please enroll me as a private whenever I am needed. Assign me to any work that I can do until called to the colors I shall through the Red Cross contribute to the comfort of soldiers in the hospital and through the Young Men's Christian Association aid in guarding the morals of the men in camp."

Mr. Bryan, with the rank of colonel, commanded a regiment of Nebraska volunteers during the Spanish-American war.

NAVY STATIONS OVERCROWDED

More Territory Will be Taken to Train Recruits.

Washington, April 7.—The Navy, to provide additional facilities for the training of recruits, yesterday began arranging to take over properties and ground adjacent to present reservations.

The rush of recruits for naval service has overcrowded the stations at Newport, Norfolk, the Great Lakes and San Francisco. The men are being given tent shelter pending the construction of new buildings and expansion of the grounds.

Funds to meet the necessary expenditures will be taken from the general appropriation asked of Congress.

ADVICE GIVEN ALIENS: "OBEY THE LAW; KEEP YOUR MOUTH SHUT."

Philadelphia, April 7.— The following notice was sent out today by United States Attorney-General Gregory to United States marshals throughout the country:

"Obey the law; keep your mouth shut."

MEXICO TURNING TO U. S.

Carranza Reported Considering Expulsion of Germans From Army. Public Opinion Changing.

Brownsville, Texas, April 7.—American sentiment is spreading rapidly in Mexico and General Carranza is reported to be considering routing all Germans out of the Mexican Army, according to information sent to Washington today by United States Consul Johnson in Matamoras, across the river from Brownsville.

Consul Johnson's dispatch was based on statements brought by a consular agent to Matamoras after a visit to Victoria, capital of the State of Tamaulipas. The agent there talked with Governor Osuna and Gen. Cesar Lopez de Lara.

They are quoted as saying that public opinion was beginning to turn against Germany and the alleged activities of Germans in Mexico.
